Permanent Collection Prints

BWA's growing permanent collection of more than 1,400 works of art includes prints by visiting artists, those donated by artists and collectors, and those gifted to BWA from other organizations. A Collection Committee of the Board of Directors manages the acquisition process for donations to ensure high standards and a professional process. The archives are maintained in two places: BWA's historic-landmark Firehouse Building headquarters and the nearby Historical Society of Pennsylvania, founded in 1824. Among the archives' holdings are exhibition catalogs, artist biographies, correspondence with artists, catalogues raisonné, a collection of books on the history of printmaking, brochures, photographs, Board of Directors and financial documents, and other analog records.
